EXPERTS IN THE BIG MIDDLE

Our seasoned technology professionals know what it takes to cover the middle ground and come out the other end with significant business improvements and serious ROI. From initial analysis to development, integration and even user training - Dfuse understands that the buzz around “end to end” solutions includes a pretty big middle too. We realize that before you begin the journey from one “end” to the other, you have to plan for data storage, data security, improved reporting, and visibility plus so much more. You want to improve operations and maximize efficiency to improve your business.

HONORS

PAST PERFORMANCE HIGHLIGHTS:

ORACLE E-BUSINESS SUITE AND OBIEE SYNAPTICS (Prime Contractor)

We are maintaining, enhancing and supporting the complete Oracle E-business Suite implementation including Oracle HR, PO, Inventory, iProcurement and isupplier Modules. Dfuse engineers provided critical 24X7 DBA support to ensure the system is always up and performs at the levels set forth in SLAs. Dfuse engineers have created state of the art Dashboard using OBIEE to show various Key Performance Indicators to upper management and stakeholders.

SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT AND INTEGRATION SERVICES

US ARMY (Subcontractor to SERCO)

In support of the Army Career Alumni Program (ACAP), Dfuse is providing tactical and strategic program support to Serco and the end client, the U.S. Army. The program support includes, software design, develop, and COTS integration and deployment. We are providing software development support using .Net and Java technologies including middleware technologies like websphere and IIS. We are also providing support on all aspects of database design and deployment on Oracle platform.

CAPS APPLICATION MIGRATION NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH (Subcontractor to UTSI/SRA)

Dfuse Technologies has been tasked to migrate centralized animal procurement system from IBM mainframe application to a web based application. We have provided technical and program support to the project.

Dfuse has technical architects, software developers, DBA and software tester on the project handling various aspects of software development lifecycle. This application interfaces with various E-business suite modules via custom interfaces and web services. The user community for this application spans 23 Institutes and Centers (ICs) at NIH.

MOBILE DEVELOPMENT AND BLUETOOTH LOW ENERGY

Dfuse is working with a commercial customer to develop a mobile application using Bluetooth Low Energy

4.0 (BLE4) technology for proximity based notification services for Android and iOS devices. We are currently designing, developing and prototyping the desired application functionality.
